George J. Hunt Dies In Clark County

George J. Hunt, of Clark county, aged 76 years, a brother of the late Simeon Hunt, of this city, entered on rest on last Friday the 5th instant, after having been confined to his bed for more than four weeks. After funeral service held at the late home by the pastor of the Ephesus Baptist church, Rev. Frank B. Pearson, assisted by Rev. W. T. Taylor, of Richmond, remains were buried in the Winchester Cemetery.

From young manhood Mr. Hunt had been an active church man. For more than thirty years we had known Mr. Hunt intimately as a citizen and Christian worker, and we are here to say there never was a more upright citizen and Christian gentleman than he was. With this said we could not be more expressive of the model character. We knew him when happy with his wife who, 29 years ago left him with a large family of children, five daughters and one son. It was beautiful to know him then as he assumed the care of little ones to be reared and trained and that he performed the duty well is evidenced by the modest women and manly son who survive him. The kindred that attended the funeral and burial service from here were Mrs. Fannie Priest, Hunt Priest, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Lane, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Prewitt, Mrs. R. J. Hunt, W. T. Hunt, Harry Hunt, Paul Hunt, Miss Anise Hunt and John G. Roberts.

Readjustment on No Fear of Panic

Post-war readjustment is finally at hand with no prospect of financial panic, according to Archer Wall Douglas, chairman of the Committee on Statistics of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, whose monthly report on business conditions was made public yesterday.

The course of prices, the report states, will continue downward and merchandise stocks by January 1, will be smaller than for many years.

"Demand in all lines is slackening. It is everywhere a case of most conservative buying rather than any great increase in supply. We are having a vivid illustration of how our usual volume of business is made up largely of things the people do not really need. Also we see how the people will get along without things they once thought indispensable, once the fit of economy is on them. "Manufacturing and mining are meeting the situation in the usual fashion by running on reduced time or shutting down altogether. This has already meant, in some cases, reduced wages.

"Talk of stabilizing prices, so as to save the situation, no longer interests anyone says a few hopeless theories. The laws of supply and demand will in time regulate matters.

"The entire business world is steadily tending to that readjustment which we have talked about so long. We have been through it before, several times, and we will go through it again and successfully. This time it is robbed of its greatest terror, financial panic and ensuing disaster. And through it all the Federal Reserve Bank system will be a refuge."

Sterling, while his singer is said to be one of the very best in the Southland. Meetings will be held each afternoon at 3 o'clock and each evening at 7 o'clock. Members of other congregations and the public in general are cordially invited to attend as many of the meetings as possible.

Lexington Market to Open on January 3rd

The Lexington loose leaf tobacco market will open Monday, January 3, instead of Wednesday, December 1, as previously announced. The decision to open the market at the later date was made Monday afternoon at a meeting of representatives of Lexington warehouses in the office of James C. Stone, president.

The big five manufacturers, Liggett & Myers, American Tobacco Company, R. J. Reynolds, Lorillard and the Imperial, did not favor the early opening of the market because other Southern sales centers will not close until late in December and many buyers could not come to Lexington until later, or after the close of the other markets.

The Mt. Sterling market will open about the same time as the Lexington market.

"Utellum" Banquet A Great Success

The first quarterly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of Mt. Sterling and Montgomery county held last Monday night at 7 o'clock in Ringo's Hall, was by far the most enthusiastic gathering of the business men of Mt. Sterling and the farmers of Montgomery county ever assembled. From beautifully decorated tables a committee from the Country Women's Club served the banquet and it was truly a meal "fit for the Gods." During the banquet music was furnished by Miss Flo Shirley at the piano, and Miss Christine Ramey, violinist. The principal address of the evening was made by J. W. Newman, former commissioner of agriculture, which appears in full in this issue of The Advocate. Other speeches were made by County Commissioner R. G. Kern and by S. S. Pinney, well known tobacco man. The meeting was in the nature of a "Utellum" and the "Utellum" spirit prevailed throughout the evening.

Fred W. Bassett, widely known as an entertainer, gave a monologue, which fairly brought down the house. G. B. Senff's song "You Tell 'Em," and Joe Keller's "The World May be Round, But It's Crooked Just the Same," both scored hits with the audience, judging from the applause they received. The banquet was presided over by President Harry G. Hoffman, one of the C. C.'s most enthusiastic members.

Small Docket for the October Circuit Court

Circuit Court has been in session for the past week, with Judge H. B. Prewitt, presiding. The docket has been an unusually light one and there have been few cases of importance to be heard. The Trimble will case has been continued until next term of court. The case of the Commonwealth against Henry Tabor, and that of Verne Jones will come up for trial at this court. The Commonwealth has executed suit against the Zeidman Pollie Exposition Shows for operating gambling devices during their engagement in this city.

A Saint of God Departs After 85th Milestone

Mrs. Nannie Berkley, aged 85 years, departed this life on Sunday, the 7th instant, at the home of E. F. Robertson. Funeral service was conducted at the residence this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. J. L. Clark and E. L. Southgate. Remains were buried in Machpelah cemetery.

Mrs. Berkley was Miss Nannie Myrheir and the widow of George Berkley, deceased. She is survived by one daughter, Miss Nannie, and one granddaughter, Miss Katherine Howell. Since early childhood Mrs. Berkley had been a devout member of the Methodist church, and was a woman who loved her Savior and served Him as best she could.

About March, 1876, we met with George Berkley and wife and were their neighbors on Winn street until after Mr. Berkley was taken. We shall never forget how faithful Mrs. Berkley was to her church and to her neighbors; truly she was a model church member, and as a neighbor and friend there are none to surpass her in loving deeds. Since enfeebled by age she was often heard to say, "I'm just waiting, waiting for Him to take me."

To her the earth and the fullness thereof were melodies of praise. How we wish our life could be as hers, and that death could come as sweetly as it did to her, "Just waiting." Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep, is the rest of this saint of God.

Ernst Elected, But Kentucky Democratic

Unofficial figures from practically every county in the state indicate the election of Richard P. Ernst, Republican, over Senator J. C. W. Beckham, Democrat, by a majority of between 7,000 and 8,000. The Democratic national ticket is leading by approximately 3,000, and it appears the official count will show the state to be safely back in the Democratic fold. The defeat of Senator Beckham is a distinct disappointment to his many friends and admirers in this section of the state.

SELLS COTTAGE

W. T. Fitzpatrick sold Saturday to J. J. McFadden, the cottage on Harrison avenue that he recently purchased of Charles Dieken. Price paid for the property was not made public. Possession will be given at once, and Mr. McFadden and family will move to the place to reside.
